AMERICA

My country, 'tis of thee, Sweet land of liberty, Of thee I sing; Land where my fathers died, Land of the Pilgrims' pride; From every mountain side, Let freedom ring.

My native country thee, Land of the noble free— Thy name I love; I love thy rocks and rills, Thy woods and templed hills; My heart with rapture thrills Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze, And ring from all the trees Sweet freedom's song; Let mortal tongues awake, Let all that breathe partake, Let rocks their silence break— The sound prolong.

Our fathers' God! to Thee, Author of liberty, To Thee we sing: Long may our land be bright With freedom's holy light; Protect us by Thy might, Great God, our King! —S. F. Smith, L. L. D.

HEREFORD SALE WAS A SUCCESS

The sale of pure-bred Hereford bulls, cows and heifers held at the St. Joseph yards Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Northwest Missouri Hereford Breeders' association was one of the most successful sales of pure-bred cattle ever conducted here. While not all of the entries in the sale were of outstanding individuality and breeding, it was a most creditable showing of the Hereford breed and prices were satisfactory. A feature that added much to the success of the sale was the presence of a number of bull buyers from the range country. George Smith, of Des Moines, S. D., and C. A. Patterson, Billings, Mont., were 2 of the big buyers at the sale. Mr. Patterson bought 2 carloads of bulls and Mr. Smith a carload for use in improving range herds in their respective sections. John Lynn and John Rankin, Sr., of Tarkio, Mo., well known Hereford breeders, were also liberal buyers. Bulk of the animals were bought by Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska breeders.

The total proceeds of the sale amounted to $18,795, an average of $399 for the 47 animals disposed of. The 56 bulls grossed $13,005, an average of $197, while the 24 females brought $5,790, an average of $241. The top price was $500 for the splendid 2-year-old bull, Fancy Lad $31885, from the herd of John Wolf, Memphis, Mo., the buyer being Lee Reynolds of Kellerton, Ia. Mr. Reynolds also bought the highest priced cow in the sale, Honeyvackie $75625, calving March 18, 1911, with a bull calf at foot, and owned by S. J. Harley, Bedford, Ia., for $350. The annual business meeting of the Northwest Missouri Hereford Breeders' association, held here preceding the sale, resulted in the election of officers for the coming year as follows: J. B. McNeerney, Coia, Ia., president; R. D. French, Kellerton, Ia., secretary-treasurer; J. A. Fisk, Grant City, Mo., John Rankin, Sr., Tarkio, Mo., and J. S. Engle, Sheridan, Mo., directors.

One vice-president for each county represented in the association will be chosen by the directors soon. The organization decided to hold another sale here next year, owing to the results of previous auctions having been satisfactory, and the treatment of members and general conveniences having been all that could be desired.

Following is a list of the sales made at Saturday's auction, showing the catalog number, name of the buyer or buyers and the price:

FIRE DESTROYS BUSINESS BLOCK AT OMAHA, NEB.

OMAHA, Neb.—Fire in the downtown retail district here this morning wiped out a half block with a loss of $750,000, caused guests at 2 hotels to be hurried half-clad into icy streets and for 2 hours threatened to become a general conflagration. A sale from the north carried burning brands over a wide area and started 6 other fires. All the fire fighting apparatus of the city combated the flames and every available policeman was used to prevent injury to thousands of persons who crowded close to falling walls and into tangles of live-wires. 5 firemen were caught under a falling wall, but none was seriously hurt. It is not known what caused the fire, but persons in nearby restaurants and rooming houses say it was preceded by an explosion, and that instantly the entire street floor of the Hartman furniture store burst into flames.

DAVE TAKES HIS DOGS AND CHICKS ALONG ON VISIT

MONTGOMERY CITY, Mo.—Dave Foreman, his dog and chickens, are back home. Foreman, dog and chickens, stood at the 400 mile trip from Platt county, Kan., where they were visiting with Foreman's mother. In making the trip, Foreman rode in a chair car, but the pet bulldog and chickens enjoyed the freedom of a big crate in the express car. A month ago the trip to Kansas was decided on, but there were the price chickens and pet dog. Foreman, unmarried, spent the most of his spare time caring for them, and he would not trust them to the neighbors. So when he went visiting, the dog and chickens went along. "It was a nice outing for them," he said when he returned. "They enjoyed mothers cooking all most as much as I."

POTATO BOUGHT MAN TWO BEERS

MONROE, Wis.—A potato passed as legal tender for 2 glasses of beer here today. The customer, having drained his glass, drew from his pocket a genuine white potato and placed it on the bar. The bartender, who was a hen egg and deposited it on the bar. The bartender rang up the cash register, deposited the tuber, and then turned to the customer: "I haven't a bit of small change; better drink the rest of it up," he suggested. The customer agreed and thus the entire potato was squandered.

AND STILL IT COULD BE WORSE

Colored conversation: "Wasn't that awful about Sam?" "How's that?" "When he went home Saturday night he found his wife in another man's arms. Sam, he gets his shotgun, shoots that man, kills his wife and then puts the barrel in his mouth and blows his own head off." "Yes, that's bad, but it might have been worse." "Might have been worse? What do you mean?" "Well, if it had been Friday night it might have been me."

PAY $2,300 FOR SEED POTATOES

LEAVENWORTH, Kan.—The federal penitentiary officials here bought 700 bushels of seed potatoes yesterday, paying $2,300 for them. At the present price it cost $20 an acre for seed potatoes. All other seeds for the big federal prison farm are high, and it will take a good crop year to realize the price of seed in some lines of vegetables. Last year a potato patch of 72 acres on the prison farm yielded 5,600 bushels of potatoes. Most of the vegetables for the prison are raised on the farm.

ANNUAL SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

The annual election at which members of the school board will be elected will be held by the 70 Buchanan county schools, April 2. 3 of the districts are planning to vote on bonds for new school houses, but their plans are not matured. Quite a number will also take up the question of voting on free-text books. 22 districts now have free text books, outside of St. Joseph.

DROUGHT HITS STATE OR IOWA

The constitutional amendment providing for state-wide prohibition has been approved by the Iowa state senate, and if passed by the house will be submitted to the people of the state for ratification. Iowa is a good corn state and won't stay long in the "red corn" class.

SEVERANCE MAN SUES FOR $50,000

Sol Well, of Severance, will be on easy street if he recovers the $50,000 for which he has sued John H. Lynds, of White Cloud and Kansas City. Mr. Lynds is in business in a large way in Kansas City and his firm supplies most of the ice used there. Before he sold his string of elevators in this section, Sol Well had charge of his elevator at Severance. They had trouble settling and it resulted in a law suit. Now, Well, thru his attorneys, Alcid Bowers and C. E. Butts, has brought suit for $50,000 actual and $25,000 punitive damages, by reason of the following words, which Well says Lynds slanderously spoke of him: "He embezzled $1,600 or more from me in the Lacyana transaction alone." We understand that Mr. Lynds is said to have used the words while on the witness stand in the litigation with Well.—Wathens Times.

LEST WE FORGET

God of our fathers, known of old— Lord of our far-flung battle lines— Beneath whose awful hand we hold Dominion over palm and pine— Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

The tumult and the shouting dies— The captains and the kings depart— Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice— An humble and a contrite heart— Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Far-called our navies melt away— On dune and headline strike the fire— Lo, all our pomp of yesterday— Is one with Nineveh and Tyre! Judge of the Nations, spare us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

If, drunk with sight of power, we loose Wild tongues that have not Thee— In awe— Such boasting as the Gentiles use— Or lesser breeds without the Law— Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget!

For heathen heart that puts his trust In reeking tube and iron shard— All valiant dust that builds on dust— And guarding calls not Thee to guard— For frantic boast and foolish word— Thy mercy on Thy People, Lord! Amen —Rudyard Kipling.

980-LB. HOG ATTRACTS NOTICE AT THE YARDS

What is said to have been the largest hog ever shipped to the St. Joseph market attracted a great deal of attention at the stock yards Friday. The animal, a huge Poland-China stag, weighed 980 pounds. As far as the records show this is the largest hog ever seen here, the previous record having been set in the sale of a 940-lb. porker several years ago. The stag grossed $103.50, a record payment for 1 hog. The animal was included in a shipment of hogs sent in by J. Q. Waller, of Matfield, Mo. The regular packers were not anxious to buy the animal because he was too big to be handled by the plant machinery. He was finally purchased by the Friend Packing company.

TOP HOGS NEAR THE $13 MARK

Top on the St. Joseph market went a notch higher today, a summit of $12.90 being reached on best butcher hogs. This is 5c above the best previous mark paid for hogs on this market. Among those who received this high figure for porkers was J. P. Kenyon, of Nortonville, who had 41 head, averaging 270 lbs. Another was Frank Korber of Bern, Kan., who sold a load of 72 head, averaging 253 lbs.—Stock Yards Journal.

Kansas is congratulating itself that it has staved off one troop of woos—it will not have a constitutional convention.

SOLDIER CLOTHES DRAW BIG CROWD

When a merchant wants to draw an unusual crowd to his show windows, he borrows some soldier equipment or pictures of soldiers and warlike and puts them in his windows, and straightway the street is blocked with people trying to peer into his store front. It is a bit of psychology as old as the human heart. Nothing attracts more attention than the things that pertain to war, except the paraphernalia of love. A merchant can place in his window an attractively arranged showing of the best fruits of the farms; he can deck it with an exhibit of the work accomplished in the schools; he can place in the window beautiful pieces of merchandise or interesting samples showing the processes of manufacture of a certain article, and his exhibits attract only a cursory attention. But he can take a sword and a gun, a blanket roll and a piece of hardware and draw a crowd. It is a bit of human nature that has not been explained. We are lovers of peace, and most of us dream of and pray for a season of world peace, but at heart we still are war-shippers of the things of war.

POOR VENTILATION CAUSES MANY COLDS

A good deal has been said about hardening people so that they will not contract colds. There is an element of danger in this since to expose a weak person to the rigors of cold and cold drafts is apt to lower resistance, thus favoring the very condition which it is desired to avoid. At the same time, it should not be forgotten, that the Arctic explorer does not ordinarily have colds so long as he stays out in the open and that it is not the engineer and fireman in the cold, dusty cab who have colds, but those who ride in the close, dusty, overheated coaches behind. When all is said, it must be admitted that dusty, unventilated rooms perhaps play the greatest role in producing colds.—U. S. Public Health Service.

OLD FOLKS ARE IN VAUDEVILLE

The talk of Portland, Ore., is about a free vaudeville show given there by men and women ranging in age from 45 to 90 years, as part of an exploitation program adopted by an organization known as the Forty-five Efficiency club, which is urging removal of age limits on national and local civil service rules. The theater was packed and many were turned away. The performance came from all walks of life from lawyers to common laborers and their wives. A quartet of men past 70 sang, and there were many other stunts.

WEST VIRGINIAN, 120; HAS BEEN EVERYWHERE

BAILEYSVILLE, W. Va.—"If I live until Aug. 13, next, I'll be 121," declared John Drysdale, who is aged 120 and the oldest man in West Virginia. Drysdale, hale and hearty, was born Aug. 13, 1796, in Scotland, the year before George Washington went out of office. He ran away from home in his youth, and was a sailor for 25 years. He landed in New York when he was 7 and he has visited every country on the globe.

DOING BUSINESS IN MEXICO

Most everything thinks of Mexico as completely disrupted and dead as a herring in a business way. Yet last year our exports to Mexico were double those of 1915 and what we bought of the Mexicans broke all past trade records between the countries.

The birthday of the father of our country was properly observed in St. Joseph.
